

TWO KILLED AS RESULT OF HEAD-ON COLLISION ON THE C.P.R. NEAR COWLEY

DEATH OF SIR ADAM BECK

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 17.—Sir Adam Beck, creator, architect and visionary of Ontario's great hydro power system, chairman of Ontario electric power commission, noted horseman and probably the best known man in this province, died shortly before midnight Saturday at "Healdy," his London home, from pernicious anaemia, in his 68th year.

Sir Adam had been suffering for several months and had returned some weeks ago from Baltimore, where he underwent special treatment in one of the local hospitals. For a time it was believed that he would be able to do his duty in Toronto as chairman of the power commission, but a week ago his condition became serious and Friday night his relatives and physicians realized that the end was near. Just before midnight Saturday he lapsed into unconsciousness and died quietly.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at St. Paul's cathedral here. Burial will take place in Hamilton where Lady Beck was buried.

His Career
Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, popularly known in this Province as the Minister of Power, was a native son of Ontario. He was born on June 20, 1857, at Baden, Ont., which was founded by his father. After having passed through the public school at Baden he attended the famous Dr. Tassie's school at Galt, then the Rockwood Academy, and afterwards the Western University, London, Ont., from which he graduated and which later conferred upon him the degree of LL.D.

Sir Adam, who was then simply Mr. Beck, in 1878 engaged in the iron foundry and milling business with his father, the late Jacob B. Beck, at Baden. In 1880 he removed to Galt, Ont., where he commenced the manufacture of boxes and the business of veneering thin lumber. He continued in this line for four years, then went to London, Ont. Here he built an extensive plant, and established branches at Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton.

Interest in Hydro
The beginning of Sir Adam's great interest in the supply of cheap electric power to the people of Ontario began in 1903 when he was appointed a commissioner to investigate the development and distribution of electric power from Niagara Falls. In 1906 as minister without portfolio in the Whitney provincial government Sir Adam Beck introduced a power bill in the legislature, creating the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. He was appointed chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission in June of that year. This position he continued to hold up to the time of his death. He was first elected to the legislature for London in 1902, and was re-elected for each succeeding term until the provincial general election of 1919, when he was defeated by H. A. Stevenson, Labor representative. Sir Adam was again elected to the Ontario Legislature as member for London in the general election of 1923, and was appointed minister without portfolio in the government of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson.

"Remember Beck, $6,000,000 is the limit," Sir James Whitney is said to have cautioned Beck when the first government guarantee of hydro bonds was demanded. Mr. Beck found little difficulty in getting the Whitney limit raised to hundreds of millions after he had shown him what he could do. The first provincially owned current from Niagara was turned on in the town of Berlin, now of Kitchener, in 1910. The second transmission line was built to Toronto. Beck continued to represent London in the legislature until 1919 when he went down to the provincial election. He was retained by the party of Sir Adam Beck, however, as chairman of the Power Commission, in which capacity he at that time was paid a salary of $18,000 a year.

Some Setbacks
Sir Adam Beck's plans in hydro affairs met with setbacks under the Drury united farmer government.

In the earlier period of his life, while extending his operations as a manufacturer, Adam Beck's health was threatened by overwork and he was advised by his physician to spend more time in the open walking or riding. He hired a hack horse at a lively stable. After a few rides on this animal, which never had done anything more exciting than haul people to the railway station and the cemetery, the young manufacturer discovered that the horse could scale a fence fairly easily, so Mr. Beck bought him. This horse, known as Roseberry, developed into a famous jumper under the skillful management of his new owner, and won prizes in Canada, the United States and England. This was Sir Adam's first start as a horse expert.

Sir Adam Beck's first experience in public matters was obtained as a manufacturer, trustee in London, Ontario, where he resided for about 30 years. He was prominent in promoting the Byron sanatorium near London and the handsome residence for the nurses in connection with that institution was the gift of Sir Adam and Lady Beck.

On the death of Sir Adam Beck, Marion survives. She is the wife of Major Strathairn Hay, of Toronto.

SECOND LARGEST HARVEST
Ottawa, Aug. 17.—With another 10 days without frost the west will have the second largest crop in its history and if present prices prevail the most valuable of any, said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, who returned today. In Alberta and Saskatchewan, he said, coarse grain like barley, oats and flax will be below the average.

As a general thing, however, a light heart indicates that the head is in the same fix.

You can't tell by the brand of liquor he drinks whether he is a wet or a dry.

LETHBRIDGE, August 15.—The C. P. R. local passenger train No. 536 collided head-on with the light pusher engine in the cut just west of the railway bridge over the South Fork of the Old Man river near Cowley at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning.

Engineer Middleton, of the pusher engine, was killed; Fireman Kendall, of the passenger train, was also killed. The fireman of the pusher and the engineer of the local passenger train escaped with injuries though not of a serious nature. The baggage man and express messenger of the local were also injured as were 12 passengers. None of the passengers received serious injury, being mostly cut and bruised. No bones were reported broken among the injured in the passenger list.

Superintendent Jamison left with the auxiliary train for the scene of the fatal smash immediately it was reported. Medical attendance for injured was provided at the earliest possible moment.

The passenger going east and the light engine going west met head-on in the cut just west of the bridge. The engines piled up badly, with the baggage car partly on top. The smoking compartment of the first passenger coach was also damaged. It was stated at the company's offices here at one o'clock that none of the other injured will suffer any permanent disablement.

Engineer Middleton lived at 636 14th St. S. Lethbridge. He was married and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his untimely passing. He was a member of the Orange order and the Black Knights of Ireland.

Fireman Kendall lived at 909 9th Ave. S. He was a son-in-law of Chas. Clarke, Macleod, his wife having formerly been Miss Lottie Clark. Mr. Kendall served overseas during the war, he was about 30 years of age, and was a member of Viaduct Lodge 55, I.O.O.F., Lethbridge.

The auxiliary train left Lethbridge at noon, and the track was being cleared this afternoon.

A Cowley Report
COWLEY, Aug. 15.—On Saturday morning about 11 o'clock, train 536 and pusher engine 3899 met in a head-on collision on a curve west of the Cowley bridge.

Engineer Middleton, of Lethbridge, on the pusher engine, and Fireman J. Kendall, of Lethbridge, on Train 536, were both instantly killed. Express Messenger McDonald, of Calgary, was badly scalded and suffered from shock. Engineer Brooks and Fireman Dommett both sustained minor bruises.

Nurse McDonald, in spite of her severe injuries, immediately gave first aid to the other injured and ministered to their comforts until they were taken to the hospital at Blairmore. Everyone admired her plucky and thoughtful spirit.

Injured Progressing
BLAIRMORE, Aug. 16.—Fireman Dommett and Express Messenger McDonald, who sustained injuries in the Cowley wreck, are in the hospital here and doing as well as can be expected. Mr. Dommett has a sprained neck, while Mr. McDonald's injuries are of a very serious nature, having been badly scalded.

Among the passengers from Blairmore were: Miss McDonald, a sister of Mrs. G. L. Stevens, who was returning to Britannia Beach to resume her duties as nurse there. Her injuries, while not serious, necessitate her remaining here for several days. Several stitches were necessary to close cuts around her left eye.

Mrs. E. Davis, who had been the guest of Sgt. and Mrs. Duncan at the court house, was severely shaken up but returned to her home in Edmonton on Saturday night.

Mrs. Milner and family, sister of Mrs. A. E. Ferguson, was also able to return to her home in Calgary on Saturday night.

Mrs. A. J. Smith, who, with her sons, were starting out to spend a vacation, were on the wrecked train, and also Mrs. Ellen Tinline of Blairmore.

Verdict Coroners Jury
PINCHER CREEK, Aug. 18.—In the case of the deaths of J. J. Kendall and Fred Middleton, the jury find that those two men came to their death as a result of a head-on collision between Engine 3899 known as the pusher engine between Frank and Pincher Station, and Engine 2101, pulling train No. 536, known as the passenger train, at the local, running between Cross' Nest and Lethbridge, at mileage 65.3, due to apparent negligence on the part of Engineer Fred Middleton to consult his time card. We consider Fireman Wm. Dommett is in no way to blame for the accident. We agree that where a pusher engine is working between two points that the turning point should be the registration point. If the engine No. 3899 had registered at Pincher Station, the accident could have been avoided. We also recommend that Pincher Station should be a registration point for pushers working between that point and Frank.

The above is the text of the verdict delivered by the jury sitting upon the inquest held on the deaths of Engineer Middleton and Fireman Kendall, and laid down by the coroner's jury after a session from 9 o'clock which followed a three-hour session Monday afternoon.

BANDITS MAKE DAYLIGHT RAID IN HEART OF WINNIPEG
Winnipeg, Aug. 14.—A check-up of the Winnipeg company's payroll disclosed that $87,476 was contained in the cash box of the company's cashier. While the police continued to scour the whole countryside, no clue has been obtained as to the direction in which the bandits fled after discharging a car they had commandeered.

The pouch contained the semi-monthly wages of the staff of nearly 1,500.

Daring Bandits
Winnipeg, Aug. 14.—Five daring daylight bandits executed one of the boldest coups ever pulled off in Winnipeg when they held up and robbed Dick Shaw, Winnipeg Electric Company cashier at 9:50 this morning. The amount taken was approximately $50,000, it is reported.

Returning from the bank with a bag full of money to be used in making up a company payroll, Shaw was surrounded by five men as he stepped from the company automobile in which he had made the trip. With a gun thrust at him Shaw refused to hand over the cash of which he was custodian, whereupon one of the five slugged him over the head with the butt end of a revolver. With Shaw unconscious on the pavement, while the hurrying throng stood aghast at the daring holdup, the five robbers leaped into the car and ordered the driver "to go like hell."

Car Abandoned
An immediate alarm started a hot pursuit, police on motor cycles and in automobiles and citizens in commandeered cars joined in the chase. Weaving about in the maze of downtown streets, direct sight of the robbers was lost in a few minutes. After a ride of approximately half an hour the company car was abandoned by the bandits and the driver returned to the company office where he was questioned by the police.

The holdup occurred on one of the busiest corners in Winnipeg. Hundreds of persons going to work passed that corner in the early morning hours and at the time of the robbery the street is always well crowded.

Police officials closely interrogated many of those in the vicinity at the time and all exits from the city are being closely watched.

Play: Any kind of work you don't get paid for.

On Wednesday afternoon at Cardston Macleod Amateur Junior Baseball wizards won from Cardston to the tune of 10-5 in a clean snappy game.

The respective managements of the two teams on Macleod's arrival in Cardston mutually agreed to put on a five-inning exhibition game in the afternoon, which was won by Cardston, after which the teams were to play one league game to decide which was topside for the finals in the Amateur play-off, and which game resulted in Macleod winning by a score of 10-5 as previously stated.

About twenty-five Macleod fans accompanied the team to Cardston where they vigorously rooted the wizards on their way to victory.

The story of the play-off so far in few words is: Six teams contesting—Calgary, Drumheller, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Cardston and Macleod. Macleod beat Cardston; Medicine Hat beat Lethbridge; Drumheller beat Calgary. Three teams now contesting—Drumheller, Medicine Hat and Macleod. Drumheller has won one game from Medicine Hat in the finals. Drumheller and Medicine Hat are to finish their contest by August 24th, when the winners are then scheduled to play Macleod on Labor Day, August 27th, place of play, etc., to be decided officially at an early date.

Macleod's team has fought its way valiantly into the finals in spite of hard luck—the home team has a mighty good chance to land the championship, and it will now be the privilege of Macleod fans to support wholeheartedly any measures adopted by the Macleod management to raise the funds necessary to carry the boys through to a more than likely win.

OVER THIRTY DEAD ON EXCURSION STEAMER
NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—Twenty-nine persons were scalded to death, two are missing and 52 seriously burned by escaping steam when a boiler in the engine room of the excursion steamer Mackinac exploded at 5:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the boat was passing the Newport naval training station in Narragansett Bay, bound from Newport to Pawtucket with 677 excursionists aboard.

Physicians at the naval hospital stated that they expected the death list to mount to at least 45 within the next few hours.

It will be days, they said, before the more seriously injured are out of danger. The majority of the dead and injured were trapped on the first and second decks when the boiler exploded. No report was heard as to those on board said the first warning was the escaping steam, which came in such volume they were unable to evade it.

Only 100 yards from Shore
The accident happened within a stone's throw of the naval hospital, less than 100 yards from shore, otherwise the casualty list would have been trebled, passengers a-board said today.

The excursionists, most of them from Pawtucket and Providence, R.I., were returning from a vacation voyage to Newport. A patch on the boiler which had been placed there just before the departure of the boat gave way, exploding the boiler and throwing the passengers into a panic.

Captain Thomas McVey, of Pawtucket, skipper of the vessel, said the boat was travelling 15 knots an hour, its fullest speed and was loaded to capacity.

"I was in the pilot room with Pilot Thomas and Quartermaster Spennard when we heard a concussion aft. This was followed immediately by the hissing of escaping steam and the entire vessel was enveloped with a steaming mist. Then the engines stopped suddenly and I gave the wheel a yank, and headed it for the beach, where its own momentum grounded it shortly after."

Mr. McPhail also announced the decision arrived at in Winnipeg to make an initial payment of 34 cents a bushel on oats, basis 2 C.W. Fort William.

Mr. McPhail stated that 1,159,187 acres of oats have been signed up to last week-end for the coarse grain pool in Saskatchewan. Initial payments on barley, flax and rye will be decided upon within the next few days, he said.

MACLEOD WON FROM CARDSTON—MACLEOD'S SNAPPY AMATEURS NOW IN FINALS FOR PROVINCIAL BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

On Wednesday afternoon at Cardston Macleod Amateur Junior Baseball wizards won from Cardston to the tune of 10-5 in a clean snappy game.

The respective managements of the two teams on Macleod's arrival in Cardston mutually agreed to put on a five-inning exhibition game in the afternoon, which was won by Cardston, after which the teams were to play one league game to decide which was topside for the finals in the Amateur play-off, and which game resulted in Macleod winning by a score of 10-5 as previously stated.

About twenty-five Macleod fans accompanied the team to Cardston where they vigorously rooted the wizards on their way to victory.

The story of the play-off so far in few words is: Six teams contesting—Calgary, Drumheller, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Cardston and Macleod. Macleod beat Cardston; Medicine Hat beat Lethbridge; Drumheller beat Calgary. Three teams

TWO KINDS OF INTELLIGENCE

Human intelligence is not the only sort.

Chimpanzees, subjected to human intelligence tests, show definitely human thinking, but a very low grade of it.

A man with as little intelligence could scarcely take care of himself, while the apes take care of themselves, in their native environment very well indeed.

The reason, of course, is that, in acquiring a little human intelligence, they have also retained a large measure of that animal intelligence that man has mostly lost.

Going lower down the scale, the monkeys have only a little human intelligence, and most of the animals practically none.

A man with as little human intelligence as a squirrel would be a low-grade idiot, completely helpless. The squirrel, on the contrary, is a very capable and independent creature.

And the bee, maintaining a complex social organization and meeting difficult problems with foresight and skill, has by all tests, no human intelligence at all.

We stand at the summit of creation, in our particular sort of intelligence, and it is no doubt the highest sort. But it is not the only sort, and in gaining much of it, we have also lost much of something else.

MAKING UNCLE SAY UNCLE

In 1924, United States rubber consumers paid $200,000,000 for their rubber. This year they will pay $500,000,000, says a despatch from Washington.

It is a particularly bitter pill for American publicists to swallow, because the reason is bald and simple—

BOURBON WHISKEY

BOTTLED IN BOND
UNDER FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION

This advertisement is not published or displayed by the Alberta Liquor Control Board or by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

Great Britain has obtained a monopoly on the world's rubber and is squeezing American consumers until they are purple in the face.

And Uncle Sam is squealing. He is squealing through almost every newspaper in United States. "Robbery," they call it. They point out that the increase in rubber prices will amount to $300,000,000, or $2.73 per capita in the States. The American Government proposes to levy a $600,000,000 income tax this year. This means that the extra profits to British rubber monopolists will be exactly half of what Uncle Sam will tax his citizens.

These same publicists and newspapers had nothing to say when Uncle Sam, with his monopoly on the world's gold, was squeezing European nations to death through war debt demands.

This business of making Uncle say "uncle" is a new and distasteful experience.

IS WAR UPLIFTING?

Nietzsche taught the Germans that war was utterly essential to a strong progressive civilization. Nietzsche died in a madhouse. His doctrines brought Germany to the edge of ruin.

Now comes an American philosopher with Nietzsche's old arguments. George Wheeler Hinman Jr., writing in the Forum, declares war is the greatest school of unselfish citizenship in the world. War, he says, develops qualities of discipline, of self-control, and of decision, which are at the base of all success in human activity.

What of business as a school of unselfish citizenship?

The creed of service has been more fully developed in the past 25 years of business life than it ever was during the 10,000 years of war that have scourged the earth.

Where is a better school of discipline than in the great exacting business offices of today? Where are the qualities of self-control and decision at a higher premium than in modern commercialism?

War may be uplifting emotionally—which is transitory. Business is uplifting spiritually—which is permanent.

BAD MEDICINE

Bolshevik-baiting has become so common a hysteria that the temptation is to discount it.

But when the heads of two of the most cautious and responsible governments in the world officially or semi-officially declare, under the responsibility of world-wide publicity, that they have evidence that Russia is behind the present troubles in China, and when the American Government inspires a suggestion that Japan is counter-plotting in the same field, it means that this evidence exists, and that it either does establish these facts or those two governments have been duped.

Either some one has forged documents so successfully as to deceive the experts of the British and American secret services or else this mischief is being done in China by influences from outside of China, which bode no good to the stability of China or the peace of the world. Such statements ought not to be authorized unless they are absolutely known to be true. If they are true, they are a challenge to the peace-loving powers of the world.

IS HE RICH?

On his 99th birthday a Seattle man gets word that he has just inherited $3,000,000. Is he rich? Answer it by asking yourself if you would trade places with him. Which would you rather be—millionaire at 20 or millionaire and 99?

After all, life itself is the only real wealth. Money is valuable only as it contributes to the abundance of life. Youth and health are valuable because they contribute to the same abundance. Age is valuable if it means the stored wisdom of experience. What youth anticipates age remembers.

Both of them "have" it and both are good. Ninety-nine years means richness of life lived and still possessed. Twenty means richness of life yet to be gained. Money is, at best, a minor tool of either.

DISAVOWED

There may be comfort for fundamentalists in the fact that Sir Arthur Keith, generally considered the foremost authority in the world on evolution, declares that the famous "ape-man's" skull recently found in South Africa is not the skull of the "missing-link" at all, but the skull of a young ape.

Scientific men had hoped that the skull was indeed the long-sought-for skull of the link between ape and man. Sir Arthur disillusioned them.

But, on the other hand, his statement ought to silence some of those enthusiasts who have been charging that men of science always strain a point or two to bolster their pet theory. Sir Arthur didn't.

ONE ON THE OUTSIDE DEALER

The following by Albert M. Freeman in a house organ. The Imprint is too good not to quote in full: I know a man

Who thinks Printers are crazy And just to prove They

Are Crazy Whenever he needs Any Printing He writes to a dozen Printers

And Asks them to Quote. The other day he had a Job And so as usual

He wrote for bids. The Lowest Bid was One Dollar and Sixty-five Cents

And the Highest Bid was One Dollar and Ninety Cents.

He spent Twelve Cents for postage In getting His Bids and He spent Three Cents

For his Envelopes. And he spent Four Cents For his Writing Paper

And he paid Eighteen Dollars A week to the Clerk who wrote the Letters

And licked the Stamps. And so He sent the Job To the Lowest Bidder

Who bid One Sixty-five. But it cost him Two-Forty.

HUGE RETURNS FROM CANAD- A'S HARVEST ARE PRE- DICTED

Canada's field crops this year will be worth nearly $400,000,000 more than in 1924. The actual value of the 1924 yields was $919,730,000, while the value of the present year is estimated at $1,318,664,507. The volume of the 1925 crop is compiled on the basis of the official report of the conditions of crops on August 1. The value is computed from the prices of grains at present prevailing for October delivery, and the estimate of the value of the other crops is based on the average price over the last five years. There are a few more than six hundred thousand agricultural families in Canada, which means that each family will have added to the country's wealth a little over $600 more than last year.

The total estimated value of the five principal grains this year is $879,722,362 as compared with last year's actual value of $615,337,000, or a gain of over $260,000,000.

Where is a better school of discipline than in the great exacting business offices of today? Where are the qualities of self-control and decision at a higher premium than in modern commercialism?

War may be uplifting emotionally—which is transitory. Business is uplifting spiritually—which is permanent.

The history of the fountain pen is very like that of the telephone, the telegraph, the radio and a host of other present-day conveniences.

Fifty years ago no one thought a satisfactory fountain pen would ever be an accomplished fact. Scores of pens had been invented, but not one of them would write properly. They only worked at times; the ink flow could not be controlled.

But in 1881 came Waterman's Ideal—the perfect pen—one that would always work properly, one that would not leak, one that would meet the peculiar requirements of every man's hand.

From a beginning of 200 pens in a year—made by hand—Waterman's pen developed into a great industry. Today there are millions of Waterman's Ideals in service in all parts of the world.

BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

OBITUARY

FUNERAL OF JOHN J. KENDALL

The remains of the late John Kendall, who was killed in the head-on collision near Cowley on Saturday last, were laid to rest in the Union cemetery, Macleod, Monday afternoon. It was one of the largest funerals seen in Macleod, and the United church, where the funeral services were held, was packed with friends and sympathizers.

A special train from Lethbridge arrived in Macleod at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen I.O.O.F. and G.W.V.A., of which the deceased had been a member. There was a big turnout of similar lodges from Macleod.

Scores of beautiful floral tributes from the deceased's many relatives and friends adorned the casket.

The deceased was 36 years of age and was born in England, coming to Macleod about 12 years ago. He married Lottie Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clarke, of Macleod, and is survived by his wife and two small children. A few months ago he moved his residence from Macleod to Lethbridge and was residing there with his family at the time of his death. The funeral services at the graveside were conducted by the Brotherhood of Firemen and Mountain View Lodge I.O.O.F., Macleod.

WHERE SPIRITS BLEND

Macleod Paragon Sees Consumption of Interesting Romance

The new significance that church union has brought to Canada was very forcibly illustrated by a happy event that transpired in Macleod on Wednesday last. This is how it happened.

Away down in the city of Indianapolis, in the state of Indiana, lives a young postal clerk, that goes by the name of Mr. Henry Mitchell. He is a tall, handsome young man, and is of the Methodist persuasion. It happened also that there dwelt in the same city a beautiful young stenographer, Miss Marion Phyllis Shoultz, who hailed originally from Missouri, and was always a good Presbyterian.

Now Mr. Brant and Miss Shoultz have been very friendly with each other for a considerable time. In fact friendship grew to intimacy and the inevitable happened, they decided to go down the long trail together. The period of their engagement was sweetened by the ever growing tie of endearment. There was only one difference between them, if they could only be one in religion, if they could stand before an altar and both feel it was the altar that was sacred to them, their happiness would then be complete.

At last there appeared a way out. The papers announced one day that in far-away Canada, the Methodist and Presbyterian churches had become one in the United Church of Canada. Then a happy thought struck the young couple, they would come to Canada and consummate the union of their fortunes at the altars of The United Church. So the summer came and with it the holidays, and accompanied by their friends Mr. and Mrs. Karl Venity, who were to act as chaperones and witnesses to the happy event, they joined the great procession of tourists that wends its way ever northward to the land of prairies, mountains, lakes, rivers and canyons. The land of golden wheat fields, blue skies, and sun-bathed landscapes, and above all the land where spirits blend in the great religious and civil fellowship of empire building. The trail brought them, naturally, to Macleod, the mecca of the tourist traffic of the west, and there, at the paragon of the United Church they were quietly united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The Rev. W. H. Irwin performed the ceremony. Of course they will see more of Canada before returning to their home in Indianapolis.

SECURITY PACT'S PROGRESS CAUSE OF SATISFACTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Aug. 13.—Although there is general satisfaction over the announcement of the reaching of a "common agreement," by the French and British foreign ministers with regard to the reply to be made to Germany's latest communication relating to a security pact, this view is not shared everywhere. Those newspapers which show disgust at France since the occupation of the Ruhr, write very cautiously, even suspiciously, about "the common agreement."

They emphasize the view that there are still a few fundamental differences between the British and French conceptions of the situation, and say that the British view has stiffened respecting Great Britain's right to judge on its merits every warranted case of aggression by Germany which would give France the right to intervene under the proposed guarantees.

It is pointed out that there are small matters in the background which are silent reminders of the need of caution against undue optimism.

Invitation to Germany

Those who share in the satisfaction over the amicable conversations between the foreign minister, M. Briand and Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, express gratification that the reply which is to be sent to Germany within a few days, contains what is described as an invitation to Germany to meet the allies in conference. Germany's original security pact offer is recalled with hearty approval and the hope is expressed that it will be accepted.

pressed that she will be encouraged to continue with entire confidence on the path she entered in February. The London Times is one of the newspapers that expresses a sanguine view of the situation, saying: "As a result of this week's most fruitful discussions, the security pact is moving beyond the sphere of discussion at large. It has become the object of rapid and reasonable action. Before the end of this month it may be that representatives of Great Britain, France and Germany, will be discussing how to establish a real peace at last."

M. Briand returned to France this morning.

The conversations between the two foreign ministers and the French reply to Germany which evolved from these will be communicated by Mr. Chamberlain to his colleagues at this afternoon's cabinet meeting. It is understood that the Belgian, Italian and Japanese governments will be advised within a day or so of the contents of the note and that it will be dispatched to Germany immediately thereafter, probably next week.

French Cabinet Meeting
Paris, Aug. 13.—Premier Painlevé has called the cabinet council to meet this evening to receive from Foreign Minister Briand a report on the result of his conversations with Foreign Secretary Chamberlain on the proposed security pact with Germany.

And many a two-by-four has made himself seem great by cussing the common people.

Life is just a slow and painful business of being handcuffed by habits.

NINTH GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT

Harvesting of wheat became general in Southern Alberta about August 10, and commenced in several districts in the central and northern parts during the past week. Wheat in the south is about 50 per cent harvested and in the central districts about 25 per cent is cut. Cutting of barley and oats has also begun in many districts.

Harvesting operations, however, have been seriously interrupted by rains which visited almost every district in the Province, commencing August 14. In many districts these rains were torrential, and the total precipitation throughout the Province was quite heavy. The weather is still showery, and it will be another week before harvesting can be resumed.

In the south the rain, of course, has been of practically no value to the grain crops, since it has come too late to have any beneficial effect save to aid in the filling of what wheat is not yet harvested. In the central and northern districts where the grain crops were still in process of maturing, the rain was of benefit in completing the filling process. Much of the wheat, however, had matured rapidly during the previous intense heat, and the percentage of the wheat crop benefitting from the rains therefore will be comparatively small.

The heavy precipitation will be of greatest value to the late oats crop and feed crops. These crops should be consequently improved by the rains, and the consequent yields increased.

Results from what little threshing has already been done in southern Alberta bear out the statements contained in recent crop reports that the yields of wheat would be disappointing. Even in fields where there was expected to be heavy yield, it has been found that the heads have not properly filled, and the yields are consequently much lower than anticipated.

In the south the new sugar beet crop has been greatly benefited by the late rains. Harvesting of this crop will commence about September 15, and the total yield of beets will be larger than at first estimated. The crop is expected to yield from 8 to 12 tons per acre, with some fields as high as 15 tons.
